Summary

Web Developer | Data Engineer

I am a computer scientist that is passionate about technology, it's advancement and mostly it's transferability. Discipline in the pursuit of knowledge and its application for the betterment of mankind is my motto and my main goal is to create new and harness existing technology that is useable, safe and productive with the skills I have.
I have over the years developed optimal levels of team membership and leadership skills.

In my years of experience in tech, I have amassed knowledge in:
Front-end Development: ReactJS | HTML | CSS
Back-end Development: Python | Python/Django
Databases: MySQL
Infrastructure: Github Actions

As a mathematician and computer scientist, I have a grasp on both the past and the future in order to make the best of the present day.
Feel free to reach out to me with regards to any job opportunities, learning opportunities, teaming and networking.
